

Unfortunately, there are some nasty bugs around at present which are resulting in children having to be absent.

Whilst we understand that illness is part of childhood, we have a number of children who are taking odd days off for minor complaints which is affecting their attendance data.

We do not want you to send a sick child to school, but we can manage minor ailments. We will always ring parents if we believe it is necessary and if we believe a child is too unwell. All that we ask is that children are not kept at home unnecessarily.
